

◆ Application Deadline:

October 15, 2009

Must have valid passport

◆ Travel Dates:

(tentative)

May 9-June 15, 2009

◆ Faculty Leader:

Dr. Jerome Rose

jcrose@uark.edu

◆ Estimated Costs:

$1,700

+

Airfare (est $2,200)

+

UA Tuition

◆ Courses offered:

(6 credit hours)

ANTH 4256

ANTH 561V

BIOARCHEOLOGICAL FIELD SCHOOL

EGYPT SUMMER 2010

University of Arkansas

- ◆ Opportunity to spend full-time on the analysis of excellently preserved skeletal material, including paleopathology, of the commoners' cemetery at Tell Amarna.
- ◆ Intensive program to study the skeletons of the commoners from Tell Amarna, the city built by Pharaoh Akhenaton.
- ◆ Experience life at a British archaeological excavation and tour the houses, palaces, temples, and tombs of Tell Amarna with Professor Barry Kemp.
  - ◆ Enrollment limited to 12 students

Since the late 1980s Dr. Jerome Rose has been excavating and conducting osteological analysis in Egypt. While he usually takes one or two students with him to Egypt, since 2007 he has been taking groups of qualified students with him on his excavation and is again willing to take up to twelve students to Tell Amarna for the summer, from May 9th to June 15th (approximately).

Application Deadline is October 15, 2009. Students must have a valid passport in hand at the time of application.

Find photos & additional program information, application instructions, funding opportunities and more!

<http://studyabroad.uark.edu/egypt>

Office of Study Abroad & International Exchange

722 W. Maple Street

Tel. 479 575 7582 Fax. 479 575 7402

studyabroad@uark.edu